The above tabulation shows that the number of sessions for the graded schools was 360, but six half days were lost at the high school as a result of the September hurricane. The average membership for all the schools is almost twenty less than the previous year. The percent of attendance remains about the same. The average tardiness per pupil has slightly decreased. The total number of pupils registered was 270. Of these 20 were elementary tuition pupils and 37 high school tuition pupils. This leaves 213 pupils residing in the district and attending public schools, an increase of 4 over our last report.

Changing times and conditions necessitate corresponding adjustments in education. In the high school we have endeavored to meet some of these conditions by the introduction of two courses: one in Consumer Education, and another in Human Relations. Both may be included under the general head of Economics although far different from the old style Economics. The purpose of these courses is to assist pupils in adapting themselves to the practical problems of living, getting and holding a job etc. In connection with this an employment bureau for members of the graduating class has been established at the office of the superintendent of schools. Employers seeking candidates for positions which they may have available are invited to consider the qualification of our local graduates.

Many pupils receive little benefit from the study of the traditional high school subjects such as French, Latin, Mathematics and English Literature. After graduating they are not prepared to do anything except to continue to go to school. Only about fifteen percent of graduates go to college or have further training in post-secondary institutions. For the larger group who finish their formal education in high school, other subjects would be much more valuable. Experience in working in our local places of business as a part of the regular course in school would give this group a much better start in life than study of foreign languages. Many local businessmen are willing to take members of the senior class to work a few hours each day during the school week. Nearly all members of the senior class are willing to do this work without pay for the sake of the experience. This would give them practice in several lines. It would also enable employers to find likely young people for employment. However, we are not able to follow this plan on account of state and federal labor laws. We hope to be able to overcome these difficulties and provide opportunity for as practical preparation as possible for students who do not go to college.

At the high school gymnasium the addition of steel lockers in the dressing rooms would greatly benefit all our local and visiting athletic teams. Two foot baths for the prevention of the spread of athlete's foot are also needed.

At the Graded School an electric stove has replaced one of the oil stoves formerly in use. The cost of using this in the domestic arts course and in preparing school lunches is little if any greater than use of the kerosene stove. It is also much safer than an oil stove.

Throughout the year parents, teachers and board have joined in their efforts to produce the best possible results for the pupils with the materials at hand.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN A. SINCLAIR,

Superintendent of Schools.
